Property Description

Your own double room, a great Liverpool location and bills AND council tax included – all for just £92 per week! Looking for an affordable room without sacrificing location? Cameron Street offers a double bedroom within a six-bedroom house share in Kensington, putting you within easy reach of Liverpool's universities, city centre and everyday essentials.

The property offers the balance of having your own bedroom while enjoying the social side of shared living. Residents have access to communal kitchen and living facilities, making it easy to cook, relax and spend time with housemates.

At just £92 per week with bills and council tax included, budgeting is refreshingly straightforward, leaving you more to spend on the things you enjoy.

Location is another big plus! Kensington is well positioned for university life and city-centre access, with supermarkets, takeaways, local shops and transport connections nearby. Whether you're heading to lectures, commuting to work or meeting friends in town, Cameron Street makes a convenient base.
